

accolades 2009

celebrating the very best practice in workforce development nominations now open - will you be a winner in 2009?

To achieve an Accolade proves an organisation's success in improving the lives of people who use social care services through workforce development.

Does this sound like your organisation? If you provide a high quality service and invest in training and developing your staff we want to hear from you. You can also nominate another organisation or employer that you think would be a worthy winner.

This year nomination forms are to be completed electronically. The nomination information is available in the accolades section of the Skills for Care website, www.skillsforcare.org.uk or email accolades@skillsforcare.org.uk. If you do not have internet access please call 0113 241 1295.

The categories for this year's awards are:

Categories 1 – 7 are applicable to the adult social care workforce only
